H1 with name

Quote below

All within a tile.

NAvigation at the bottom linking to navigation page.

6 tiles liking the different divs for the site. (About, Skills, Projects, Contact, Work, Education)

Display as one column for mobile and 2 columns of 3 on desktop

Large oval image in the centre of the page. Profile.

A tile across the page with a brief explanation of myself

A tile with a description of the the the topic and an icon. The Icon direction will alternate in order to stay in the centre of the screen.
The Icons will be clickable where necessary and have functionality such as click to call and click to email.

The large description tile will have a span tag for the title of the page and a description of what it is about. This will not be present on mobile.

The navigation on the bottom of the page will move the user to the next div It will point downwards until the last page which will point upwards.
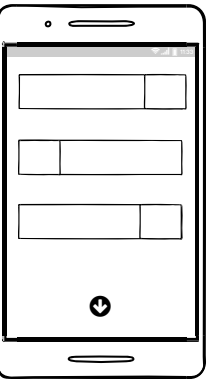

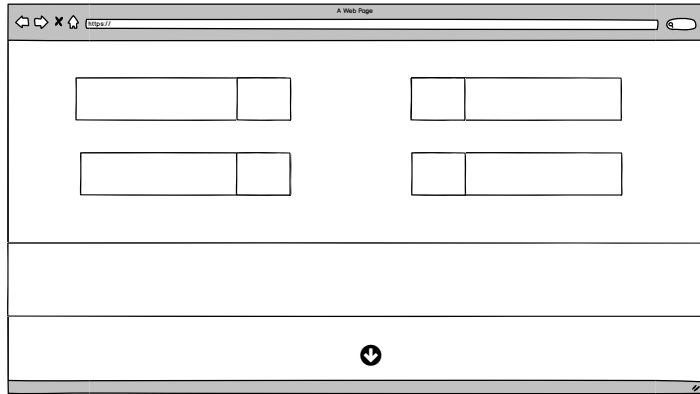

Tiles with 3 needs will display like this.
Eg. The Work exp tile.